Introduction.

The idea behind SplinterShare is very simple. Hold a qualifying amount of SplinterShare to receive rewards in $DEC and $SPS.

As the first community-driven token with the intentions of supporting Splinterlands, we're implementing a system where most holders can gain rewards in precious currencies which can be used in-game!

We wish to establish a connection between DeFi and Splinterlands players from all across the globe. This allows us to foster a community behind the token; we want to support new investors and new players alike. We're here to support Splinterlands and make it easier for players to get into the game!

SplinterShare's Mission.

SplinterShare is a project that aims to support Splinterlands and its players. We have a contract which rewards holders of SplinterShare with $DEC and $SPS.

You can use these coins in-game to buy cards, stake $SPS to further compound your investment, or simply just sell them. The reason for these tokens is because we wish to foster a community which enjoys Splinterlands and can actively support the game at the same time by spreading awareness and making the game more accessible to a wider audience.

What is SplinterShare?

We are huge fans of Splinterlands here at Splintershare! We aren't part of the official Splintershare ecosystem; but we are a 100% community-based project that wishes to help support the game and give it more exposure. The project dev – who is a long-time player – has been a part of multiple successful projects. During his time helping out other projects, he thought of creating a rewards token that could be used for the Splintershare community – after many months of planning; finding team members and working on the contract – Splintershare was born. We wanted to provide a project that could supplement Splinterlands' mission; we do not wish to capture the success of Splinterlands for ourselves, we simply want to offer the existing community an alternative route for acquiring $SPS and $DEC to enjoy the game further while allowing new players to learn about what the game has to offer!

- We offer a unique automatic dual dividend reward system
- Hold a minimum of 10,000,000 SplinterShare to earn rewards
- Holders receive a proportional amount of the 10% taxes to earn $DEC and $SPS

Please note that we reserve the right to deny anyone with, or without a reason.

How users earn tokens.

Holding

For each transaction made to SplinterShare (Buy & Sell), you'll gain $DEC & $SPS tokens.

Investing

By investing more into SplinterShare, you'll earn more tokens from each transaction that occurs. This is due to owning a larger percentage of available supply.

Events

You can earn SplinterShare tokens by participating in community events that we plan on frequently hosting. You can earn via giveaways as well as Splinterlands tournaments which we will hold and sponsor!

Supporting Us

You can earn SplinterShare tokens by simply supporting us and our community! If a team member notices your frequent contributions to the SplinterShare community, you may receive a small thank you gift from us.

Roadmap

- Automate NFT Revenue Distribution to Holders
- Extensive Marketing & User Base-Building
- Release [TBA]
- Collaborate With Official Partners

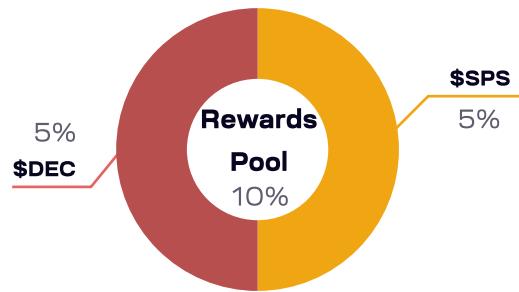

Once Phases 1,2 & 3 are complete, we will renew the roadmap to continue further development.

Tokenomics.

SplinterShare has a max tax of 16%. 6% goes to marketing, 5% is used to supply $DEC rewards, and 5% is used to supply $SPS rewards.

Rewards are setup in this manner:

- 5% $DEC Rewards
- 5% $SPS Rewards

While our “Marketing Wallet” is dynamic, it will possibly need to be changed based on project needs. However, it’ll more often be setup like this:

2/3%	Marketing
2%	Development
1/2%	Liquidity Pool

Conclusion

SplinterShare looks to provide a way to celebrate Splinterlands and make the game more accessible to a greater audience through its unique dual dividend rewards system. Furthermore, SplinterShare will host events such as tournaments and card giveaways to keep the community engaged and to bridge the gap between gaming and DeFi.

Please remember that SplinterShare is an investment, not a guarantee, nor a promise of any returns. Nonetheless, we will utilize our available resources to grow and progressively bring out new features that you, the investor, may be interested in down the road.

Thank you!
